Brink or Threshold?

A screenshot of a web browser displaying a news article on the SoR website. The browser's address bar shows the URL 'sor.org/news/delegates-endorse-sor-professional-body-and-trade-union-roles'. The website header includes the SoR logo, a search bar, and navigation links: Home, Public and Patient, About radiography, About us, Being a member, Learning, Career progression, Practice, Trade union support, and Around the UK. The article title is 'Delegates endorse SoR professional body and trade union roles', dated '2 May, 2019'. The article text discusses a statement by the UK Council, a review of the Society's role, and the question of whether the SoR should be a professional body, a trade union, or both. It includes quotes from Sue Webb, the Society's president, and Sue Johnson, a member. A 'Content tools' sidebar offers options for a printer-friendly version, contacting the site, and sharing via email, Twitter, LinkedIn, and Facebook. A 'Tweets by @SCoRMembers' section shows two tweets: one from Sue Johnson and one from UHCW Radiology. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the date as 16/10/2019 and the time as 16:56.
