MR SAFETY AWARENESS

Incident Reporting
MR incidents are widely underreported across Europe \(^1,2\)

Do you know which incidents you should report internally?

Do you know which incidents you should also report to the MHRA?

Do you know the system that you use at your site to report an incident?

Examples of MHRA Reportable Incidents
..that result in or might result in harm to the patient or the users of the equipment:

⚠️ Adverse Incidents
⚠️ Major artefacts
⚠️ Defective medicines
⚠️ Adverse drug reactions

List of adverse incidents:
- Burns and overheating
- Projectile incidents
- Change of device function as a result of MR exposure
- Mechanical failures
- Cryogen and quench issues
- Contrast injector failures
- Noise issues

Reporting an incident
Follow your local rules, policies or procedures for how to report incidents locally.
To report an incident to the MHRA use the "yellow card" online system accessed via:

www.yellowcard@mhra.gov.uk

Yellow Card

References