

I'm currently working on a project investigating the Context of the Radiography Profession in the UK (Culture, Leadership, Service Evaluation).

Radiographers needed for leadership and culture research project

27 September, 2017

Radiographers are asked to take part in a study surveying leadership, culture and service evaluation within the profession in the UK.

The survey is being undertaken as part of a research project for a professional doctorate in healthcare at Bangor University, and one respondent will receive a prize of a Samsung tablet PC.

The questions should take no more than 10 to 15 minutes to complete and you will be asked for general information about your background in radiography and practice in your department.

The output from the research process will be shared with Bangor University and the Society but any data you input will be kept confidential and any future publication will only contain anonymised data by region.

If you need further information, contact David Jones, principal investigator.
